

Briarwood Health Center at Timber Ridge

The beautifully-designed Briarwood Health Center offers a refreshing approach to health care. The recently expanded health center offers short- and long-term skilled nursing care with 45 transitional care beds, 37 of which are private suites in addition to 12 assisted living apartments and 12 memory care living suites.

The Five Star-rated Briarwood Health Center is resident-centered, reflecting the lifestyle and preferences of residents and provides care around personal goals and aspirations including rehabilitative services.

Briarwood Health Center has been designed with private, residential-style living in an intimate community where personalized services are provided in a highly-dignified setting.

Briarwood is Medicare certified and works with residents to optimize individual Medicare and long-term care insurance coverage. The range of services provided for short- and long-term rehabilitation and nursing care is one-of-a-kind for a senior living community. Additionally, routine screenings and wellness checks are provided by on-staff nurse practitioners.

The LifeCare senior living community of Timber Ridge provides unlimited days of long-term health care services.

Erin Humphrey oversees Briarwood Health Center as the Briarwood Administrator. Humphrey is a member of the American College of Healthcare Executives and is certified as a licensed nursing home administrator by the Washington State Department of Health.
